

Defence Aviation Safety Authority

AVIATION SOFTWARE CERTIFICATION (INTERMEDIATE)

Course Code

217285

Course Duration

5 x ½ days - 0800h – 1200h each day

Please note: Places are limited so submit your application early.

Course Content

Utilizing the DO-178C standard as a basis for the course (being the ADF preferred software assurance standard), this course provides an overview of the software assurance ecosystem and the Authority's involvement in Major software projects.

Target Audience

The course is aimed at software practitioners involved in airborne software engineering and software assurance. However, engineers conducting Design Approval and inspections of Compliance Demonstration evidence of safety related aviation software will also find this course useful.

Sessions

- Session: 0016
 - Date: 9 – 13 September 2024
 - Location: Virtual Delivery
 - Nomination Closing Date: 29 August 2024

Cost

There is no cost involved for Australian Defence Force personnel and Australian Public Service employees. Industry participants are required to pay a fee of $690 per person. Industry participants are also required to complete the DASA Training Contractor Billing Details form contained in this link and submit it along with the training nomination form. Nominations by industry personnel WILL NOT be considered unless both forms are received by DASA Training.

Other Costs: The individual's parent unit/organisation is responsible for funding travel, meals and accommodation to attend this course. This also applies when the individual is based at the training location.

Special Requirements

Please notify DASA Training should you require assistance in attending the course, such access, hearing, vision assistance, etc.

Since this is a remote offering, participants need to have reliable internet access that allows web conferencing applications to be installed and function (DPN/DRN is unsuitable). Since lecture material will be utilised at the same time, it is highly recommended that students have a second screen to display material, or have the lecture material physically printed. These will be made available in the Joining Instructions.

Nomination Form

Personnel are to nominate directly to DASA Training using webform AE655.

If you are unable to nominate using the form above, please contact DASA Training.

If no dates are listed please nominate and enter EOI in the course date and location fields and you will be contacted when more courses are scheduled.

Event Administration Contact

DASA.Training@defence.gov.au