

Spotlight* Investigation Special available online

The latest edition of Aviation Safety Spotlight magazine is now available on the DASA Internet site.

2023's Investigation Special features articles based on Aviation Safety Reports of serious and complex investigations completed by both DFSB and Defence Aviation Commands. This edition is one of the key mechanisms by which investigation reports are communicated broadly to Defence Aviation organisations and supporting enterprises.

Director DFSB GPCAPT David Smith says investigating aviation safety events and sharing the findings could help prevent further occurrences and enhance safety, while not apportioning blame or liability.

The 2023 Spotlight Investigation Special will be printed in early 2024, and distributed to units through ASOs. It will also be available on the DASA Internet site and Electronic Flight Bag following the Christmas/New Year break.
