COVID distraction safety campaign – get your head in the game

The Defence Flight Safety Bureau isn't detecting a trend in ASR reporting that is indicating distraction/disruption/preoccupation as a result of COVID-19 as a source of concern but clearly things are not business as usual. The attached posters are a reminder to all working on aircraft to keep their "head in the game".

The posters can be accessed through several methods:

1. Follow this link directly to a DPN webpage containing the posters: COVID-19 safety awareness
2. The posters are attached as pdfs
3. A link to the Objective folder is attached (DPN only)
4. There is a link on the DFSB homepage.
